Dear Harold:

I deeply appreciated your letter of 18 April inviting me to speak at the meeting of your Advisory Board on International Business on 8 June.

I have delayed answering in the hope I could work out my plans to be with you. Unfortunately, I find that I shall have to be leaving for Europe about the time of your meeting and I can't get away to New York at that particular moment.

If by any chance you would wish to have me come to a meeting at some later date, I should certainly like an opportunity to do so.

It is always good to hear from you and I hope we can get together soon.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Hansen:

Mr. Dulles asked me to acknowledge and thank you for the brochures you sent him concerning the Advanced Management Program and the proposed Asian Center for Management Research and Development in the Far East. Endeavors such as these on the part of private American institutes contribute materially to strengthening the national economies of our Asian neighbors.

The brochures have been sent to our people who are primarily concerned with [redacted] Asian affairs for study and we will be writing to you again on this subject.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I am enclosing two items, a printed brochure concerning the Advanced Management Program in the Far East, and a mimeographed document entitled, Asian Center for Management Research and Development. The brochure is enclosed only to give you some background information.

What might be of interest to you is the memorandum concerning the Asian Center. Would you be interested in talking about some implications of this proposal?

Sincerely yours,
